Let's change The Routine

Petchaburi

Petchaburi, a province next to Hua Hin in north direction, is a region of rich cultural heritage and diverse natural & local living beauty.

With its combination of historical sites, religious landmarks, and scenic landscapes, Petchaburi offers a unique blend of experiences for visitors.

Lung Thanom Sugar Palm Plantation - Learn how the sugar palm is made.

This place is the Tan Tanod local wisdom learning center or Palmyra palm conservation center. Uncle Thanom is the pioneer of cultivating palm trees and the one and only palm expert in Phetchaburi. Inside the orchard is cool and pleasant with breeze and birds chirping.

Wat Koh Kaew Suttharam or Wat Koh (in short), built in the Ayutthaya period around 300 years ago, has precious mural paints about Buddhist mythology around the ordination hall remarking the art of that period.

Wat Yai Suwannaram Worawihan, or commonly known as Wat

Yai, being assumed that was built when Ayutthaya was the capital city of Thailand. In one of the royal study during King Rama V of Rattanakosin Era, it is stated that "the mural paint and other artistic works in the ordination hall must have been created more than 300 years ago" (400 years until the present time).

Let's

change the routine and embark on a journey down the lesser-traveled path.

The shortcut route is the Khlong Khon-Cha-am Road, an enchanting coastal road tracing the western edge of the Gulf of Thailand. Commencing from Highway 35 (Rama II Road) at kilometer marker 72+100 in Mueang Samut Songkhram District, this route carries you towards the mesmerizing Bang Tabun Bridge nestled in Ban Laem District, Phetchaburi Province

As you venture along this path, prepare to be captivated by sweeping panoramic ocean vistas, the allure of 360-degree scallop farm panoramas, and the graceful presence of both local and migratory birds. This roadway gracefully meanders through Nong Kluen, and upon arrival at Ban Laem District, you'll step into Phetchaburi's grandeur—a region renowned as Thailand's most significant sea salt production hub. Here, salt mounds stand sentry along the road's flanks, some kissed by brine and others awaiting their transformation through evaporation."

In those precious rain-free intervals, intrepid travelers are granted a window into the rhythms of local life within the salt fields. An opportunity to capture the splendor of myriad pink salt fields, each shade more exquisite than the last. So let's veer off the mundane and step into a realm where extraordinary moments await at every turn.

CRUISING WONDER 3 BAYS IN 1 DAY

Prachuap Kiri Khan province lies along the east coast of upper southern part of Thailand for hundreds of kilometers from Hua Hin to Bang Saphan. The province coastline is long and beautiful and offers great travelling opportunities. The most famous places are along the coast are Noi Bay, Prachuap Bay and Manao Bay which line next to each other from north to south. Prachuap Kiri Khan is also known in Thai as "Muang Sam Ao" or the city of the three bays. Our bicycle tour will take you to visit the best spots of Prachuap Kiri Khan, stopping every now and then to take time to enjoy the beautiful nature and spectacular sceneries. Most of the route is a smooth asphalt road running along the beach. One of the highlights of this tour is a visit to a local temple surrounded by a Naga (mythological dragon) which chapel has amazing carved wood works. There is a great contrast during this tour while we cycle through the city to quiet beaches. We will encounter wild life and you will be surprised to be able to spot the rare Dusky langur right in town. We leave the city to the beach for lunch and then cycle through the 3 bays. There will be plenty of opportunities to get a swim along the way, just choose your spot between the three amazing bays...

ITINERARY :

Pick up about 7 o'clock in the morning. It will take us about an hour to the starting point in Ao Noi, a quiet bay where are anchored traditional Thai fishing boats. From there we will head for the second bay, Prachuap bay the longest one and then on to the third one : Manao bay. We will have a spare time for 45 minutes to an hour to enjoy swimming in the warm water before heading back. You will be dropped off at your hotel around 4 pm.
